I have purchased a family travel insurance policy for sum insured US$50000. Does this mean coverage of US$50000 for each member or is it US$50000 coverage for all of us together?

The coverage is for all of you together and not per person. This means that in any case, the total amount payable in case of a claim shall not exceed US$50000, subject to terms and conditions of the policy. Also, the amount for each benefit is the total amount payable and not per person.
